

MY DRAGON, FRED

Once a dragon called Fred lived in a deep dark cave . He was right next to the king's palace. One day the dragon went to the king's palace. He started to breathe fire. The men got their armour and all the weapons that they could find. They got men on horses and then the archers fired. Fred was dead and the King's palace was saved.

By SHAUN